WTF I'm being fired

My boss just called me and said they're firing me. They said they've been actively keeping watch on my online blog for some time, and my recent post sent off some flags. Since what the hell? How did they find my blog? They didn't explain. They had said they don't want someone like me working for them though. I told them it wasn't true. Their response was they don't want to take the risk. They fired the images and stories I post very strange too and not being at a teacher.

👍 I am honestly very speechless right now

I'm a lolicon THERE I FREEDOM ADMIT IT
